The motto of NSS is "Not me but you". The NSS is for the development of youth who are the pillars of our nation. It is very well said that "Education is not preparation for, education is life itself".

The symbol for NSS has been based on the Gaint Rath Wheel of the world famous Konark Sun Temple situated in Odisha - India. The wheel portrays the cycle of creation, preservation and release. It signifies the movement in life across time and space the symbol thus stands for continuity as well as change simplifies the continuous striving of NSS for social change. The eight bars in the wheel represent 24 hours of a day. The red colour indicates that the volunteer is full of young blood that is lively, active, energetic and full of high spirit. The many blue colour indicates the cosmo of which the NSS is tiny part, ready to contribute its share for the welfare of the mankind. Yoga Day Yoga Day is celebrated annually on 21st June since 2015. Yoga day is an need of an hour. An international day for yoga was declared unanimously by the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA). Yoga is a physical, mental and spiritual practice attributed mostly to India.

The Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi in his UN address suggested the date of 21st June as it is the longest day of the year in Northern Hemisphere and shares special significance in many parts of the world.

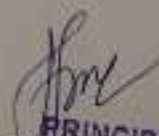

Yoga is an invaluable gift of India's ancient tradition. It embodies unity of mind and body, thought and action; restraint and fulfillment, harmony between man and nature; a holistic approach to health and well being. It is not about exercise but to discover the sense of oneness with yourself, the world and the nature. By changing out life style and eating consciousness, it can help in well being. Let us work towards adopting an International Yoga Day.

Health Awareness and Women Empowerment Camp

Dr. Reshma Khan gynecologist MGM Hospital, Aurangabad was invited to organize this camp in collaboration with Lion's Club, Aurangabad.

She in her talk discussed various problems of adolescent girls as today's girl child will be the mother of tomorrow and as a citizen of democratic India women have equal right for education. Girls education stimulates educational consciousness and civic sense.

Educating adolescent girl may perhaps be the only way to put an end to the seemingly never ending cycle of issues like dropout, low attendance and low age of marriages and low status of women. Discussion and orientation on health, hygiene, menstruation and related physiological knowledge which are not being covered as part of the regular curriculum, helps students to explore a universe beyond their text books.

Menstrual hygiene and management is an issue that is in sufficiently acknowledge and has not received adequate attention in either education or the other semitation sector. she also highlighted that knowledge regarding menstrual hygiene and management is inadequate and they is a need to demystify myths.

The main objectives was:

- To create an awareness among the students regarding the nutritional diet. The emotional and physical and psychological changes during the menstrual cycle.
- To help the adolescent girl to understand the physical and psychological changes they are undergoing and the scientific reasons behind the changes.
- To create awareness on various issues like child rights, trafficking of children, child abuse etc.

Bhadkal Gate in the centre of Aurangabad City. Though the palace has been originally built by Malik Amber, Alam Ali Khan, The Governor of Aurangabad is reported to have made extensive additions to the palace during Aurangzeb period. Aurangzeb in his early stay in the Deccan stayed at Navkhanda palace.

The audience hall of the palace is situated in the midst of a pleasant garden with water channels and fountains. The innermost enclosure is the most extensive but its audience hall and garden are in a ruinous condition now. The central enclosure is in a comparatively better state of preservation and it is at the hall of this enclosure that carpet of Asaf Jah is displayed. The hall comprises of several apartments. The roof of which is supported by wooden pillars, the architecture of the hall is of the Late Moghal style, the salient feature of which is apparent in the cusped arches.

National Youth Day

12th January 2018

National Youth Day is celebrated in India on 21st January on the birth day of Swami Vivekananda. In 1984 the government of India declared the day as the National Youth Day and since 1985 the event is celebrated in India every year. It was a great discussion of Govt. of India taken in the year, 1984 to celebrate the birthday of Swami Vivekananda i.e. 12th January as a National Youth Day every year. As the Govt. of India has quoted and realized that the philosophy of Swamiji and the ideals for which he lived and worked could be a great source of inspiration for the Indian youth.

On 12th January 2013 former Indian Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh told in his address at the inauguration of four years long celebrations of Swami Vivekananda's 150th Birth Anniversary. The great importance of spreading Swami Vivekananda's idea and ideals among the youth in our country today. He personified the external energy of the youth and their restless quest for truth. It is entirely fitting that the Govt. of India has declared 12th January, the Birthday of Swami Vivekananda as National Youth Day. We must work to rekindle the external message of this great patriot and son of India.

The National Youth Day is observed all over India at schools and colleges, with processions, speeches, recitations, music, youth convenient seminars, yogasans presentations, competitions in essay-writing, recitations and sports on 12th January every year. Swami Vivekananda's lectures and writing, deriving their inspiration from Indian spiritual tradition and the broad out look of his master Sri Ramakrishna Paramahansa, are the source of inspiration and have motivated numerous youth organizations, study circles and service projects involving the youth.

tailor your language to your audience, listen effectively, present your ideas appropriately, write clearly and consistently and work well in a group. Many of these are essential skills that seek.

Our more specific pages on inter personal communication skills are divided broadly into verbal communication, non verbal communication and listening.

Verbal Communication:

Verbal communication is all about what we say which is an important way of getting our message across. Questioning skills are the very important area of verbal communication. The words that we choose can make a big difference to whether other people understand. For example communicating with a young child or with someone who does not speak our own language verywell. You need to use simple language, short sentences and check understanding regularly.

Non-Verbal Communication:

Using our voice is only the tip of the Iceberg. We actually communicate for more information using non-verbal communication. This includes non-verbal signals, gestures, facial expression, body language, tone of voice and even our appearance. Listening provides a lot more information about how to listen effectively and can help you to avoid misunderstanding while types of listening explains more about the theory of listening.

Stress Management

Stress Management is a wide subject of techniques and psychotherapies aimed at controlled a persons level of stress.

Dr. Sana Khilji, MBBS (Govt. Medical College, Aurangabad), M.D. (Psychiatry, MBE, New Delhi). Specialization in Women and Child Psychiatry and Preetising since 8 years at Happy Family Hospital, Azad Chowk, Aurangabad.

She in her lecture explained the term stress with significant negative consequences or distress. Stress produces numerous physical and mental symptoms which vary according to each individuals situational factors. They include physical health decline as well as depression. The process of stress management is named as one of the keys to a happy and successful life in modern society.

There are many stressors most are:

- Conflicts in company
- Lack of job security
- Unclear expectations
- Inadequate pay or benefits
- Too much work
- Long hours
- Uncomfortable physical conditions

- Relationship conflicts
- Lack of co-operation

In order to develop an effective stress management programme it is first necessary to identify the facts that are central to a person controlling his / her stress and to identify the intervention methods which effectively target those factors.

Although many techniques have tradition been developed to deal with the consequences of stress considerable research has also been conducted on the prevention of stress, a subject closely related to psychological resilience building. A number of self help approaches to stress prevention has been developed, drawing mainly on the theory and practice of cognitive behavioural therapy.

Various different types of stress has been identified:

- Acute stress
- Chronic stress
- Workplace

Evaluating the effectiveness of various stress management techniques can be difficult as limited research currently exists. Consequently the amount of quality of evidence for the various techniques varies widely.
